

If i were to start a software company then 2 people from my batch i will choose are Asad Mehdi and Saurabh Rathi

I know both of them very well and i am aware of their technical as well as managerial skills .

They both are good in various things which i think can help my software company grow really well..

Asad Mehdi is a Web developer and Saurabh Rathi is a data analyst and they both possess skills which will be usefull in a organization.
